The ancient town Krumlov becomes christmasmusic itself! It´s houses, alleys, squares, churches, the castle and it´s moving river Vltava resound spontaneously as organ music due to the Viennese artist, scientist and cultural philosopher Mag. Dr. Rainer König –Hollerwöger. With the worldwide known christmas air „Holy Night/Silent Night“, the medieval first version (11th century) of the christmas air „A Rose has flowered“ the organ sound reaches sinphonic dimensions.

The painter, writer and composer paints as organist Organist the town of Egon Schiele in sound. Hereby he commemorates a young mother and her child who fell in misery, Julia Kühner from Pulkau/Austria missing without a trace since 27th of June 2006 and Holy Agnes from Bohemia (Prag 1211 – 1282) who founded the Order of the Holy Cross of the Red Star, which is located in the former monastery of the Minoriten of Český Krumlov. This organ recital which is part of the favoured international cultural concert series „Organ Spontan“ is also dedicated to Český Krumlov in connection with it´s 700´s anniversary.

The Viennese artist plays on the oldest church organ from Český Krumlov from the years 1679-82 with two small manuals, 22 sound registers and pedals. The baroque instrument with Renaissance sounds is on the choir behind the altar in the mystic church space.
